

MUSIC - MISSION - NETWORK

In order to expand our range of music and creativity, we are looking to add to our international team in Altötting (Bavaria/Germany) in summer 2021 or earlier:

Media designer (full-time or part-time)

In the "Rejoice" program, young adults between 18 and 30 live together for nine months and go through an intensive period of personal and creative development. A main focus of "Rejoice" is creating dialogues with people through innovative music and media projects..

Rejoice is a program of the Emmanuel School of Mission Altötting, supported by the Catholic Emmanuel Community. We are involved in a variety of initiatives for a relevant, living Christian faith and would like to stimulate an open exchange between society and the church in the midst of modern everyday life.

Your tasks as media designer:

- Develop visual projects and communication and guide their implementation
- Help the students train and utilize their media and communication skills and encourage their professional and personal development
- Give lessons in certain subject areas
- Participate in the conceptual development of Rejoice and quality management for your area of responsibility
- Acquire and maintain technical equipment and software
- Train and support volunteers
- Provide personal individual support for students when needed

What to bring:

- Whether you are a young or experienced professional, you have a degree or professional experience in media design, media and communication, computer science or a comparable qualification. Knowledge of Adobe Photoshop, Illustrator, Final Cut Pro would be an asset.
- Teaching experience through work or volunteer work
- Enjoyment of working with young adults
- Enthusiasm for developing and supporting innovative visual projects
- Understanding and a good eye for appealing images and graphics, and knowledge of photography
- A communicative way of working, and openness to new ideas
- Enjoyment of working in a small team
- Willingness to travel and flexible in terms of time (including some evening and weekend events)
- Knowledge of German and English (at least B1)

What we offer you:

- A two-year contract with an option to extend
- A well-equipped and modern working environment that is state-of-the-art for creative development
- Cooperation based on trust and a flat hierarchy
- A motivated and international team, and a place of work with a special flair
- If two candidates' qualifications are otherwise essentially the same, a severely disabled candidate will be given preference. Digital applications only: please send your application documents, with details of your salary expectations, to bewerbung@emmanuel.de
